

CREST

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE SUCCESS TRAINING

Once again, the Commercial Real Estate Success Training (CREST) Internship is off to a fantastic start! The response from our sponsors, interns and employers reaffirms the value CREST brings to the industry. The CREST Class of 2018 has taken full advantage of their exposure and opportunity and we are proud to share some of the positive impressions they have made in just a short time!

It has been a pleasure getting to know Ari and having him here at AEW for the past two weeks. We've introduced him to accountants in our group and colleagues in other departments. He has been learning how to review monthly reporting packages which is a fundamental aspect of an accountant's job here at AEW. I anticipate by the end of our time with him he'll have built a solid understanding of how we keep our accounting books and records for an investment... I have been quite impressed with his attitude, determination to learn and timeliness in arriving at the office in the morning!

-Lauren Sharron, AEW

CREST Class of 2018 is joined by sponsors and employers at the annual Orientation Luncheon. Sponsored by GBREB and hosted at BrownRudnick's office facilitated by ULI.

Kevin Galvin of CV Properties discusses the role of the developer at Orientation.

Interns enjoy the camaraderie that CREST Orientation provides.

Michelle has been a helpful addition to our team, and I am confident that she will continue to be throughout her internship. Several colleagues have requested her assistance, resulting in a healthy backlog of projects to keep her actively engaged. The projects require Michelle to work with our Design, Accounting, and Purchasing Departments. To date, she has shown an eagerness to complete her assignments in an accurate and timely manner. She also listens well and is curious about the real estate business. We are happy to have Michelle working with us.

-Greg Flaherty,
Cummings Properties